Old rivals wielding powerful new technologies have declared war on the Sian Empire. Princess Illaria's enemies are hunting for her—and if she falls into their clutches, the empire is doomed. The one person who can save her languishes in prison, the victim of a political plot with galaxy-wide repercussions. That one person is you...

BACKGROUND

5th Planet Games' first project, Dawn of the Dragons, launched in 2010 as the first truly robust MMORPG on Facebook. The company is dedicated to producing engrossing and entertaining products which appeal to both hardcore gamers and casual players alike.

Concept Art House is a provider of premier digital artwork for entertainment giants such as Blizzard, Hasbro, Sony Online, Disney Interactive, and others. Recent credits include Command and Conquer, World of Warcraft, Dungeons & Dragons, and Magic: The Gathering. With offices in San Francisco and Shanghai, the company employs some of the industry's most prominent digital artists.

The two companies have joined forces to combine 5th Planet's storytelling and gameplay expertise with Concept Art House's movie-quality artwork and console game production values. The result: a Facebook game that looks and plays unlike any other.

KEY FEATURES

- Distinctive artwork infuses the futuristic setting with elements of ancient Chinese fantasy
- Prove your skills as a pilot and warrior in face-offs with dictators, cyborgs, aliens, monsters, and other interstellar threats
- Epic storyline incorporates a rich backstory and history to present a living, breathing world
- All of the quests, battles, and stat-building of a standard MMORPG, layered on top of the world's largest social network
